WILL THEY BE ANSWERED?

Texas Farmer has propounded a few interrogatories on Baileyism to Congressman Sheppard. Texas Farmer is only a trifle previous in his catechism. Not only will Congressman Sheppard, but every Texas Congressman will have to stand up and "announce" by answering fairly, squarely and unequivocally each question propounded, which will be known as the "Democratic Catechism on Baileyism." By a strange coincidence, the Texas Farmer puts to Congressman Sheppard ten questions on ten Democratic commandments, if only changed to command instead of question. There is no doubt but the Democratic catechism will be handed to the National Democratic Convention for it to approve or disapprove the new test and to more explicitly, "DEFINE THE DUTIES OF A PUBLIC SERVANT." Mr. Bryan will no doubt be handed one of these catechisms with a request to answer each question. He, being the great father of the Democratic party of today, will be called on to advise the younger members of the party who are in training for higher offices in the party, and who have a distant hope that political lightning will strike their kite floating the political atmosphere, whether they should follow Republican Senator Spooner in resigning should they find the salary of their office inadequate or Democratic Senator Bailey practicing to make both ends meet. The first chief of the Democrat host, Thomas Jefferson, resolute on this question. He would not increase his income while in office, but lived on his salary. But times have changed. A revision of the Bible seems to be necessary. Why not a revision of the political creed? If it is done, it should be done legally—openly, so as to give every one the same shot at the gate. Therefore the second apostle of the Democratic faith should issue his manifesto, giving the boys a clear field, with approved credentials. The party all get on the same side of the fence. There should be no division fence in the political pasture. All must drink at the same spring.

The talk that prohibition kills a town is not evident in The Citizens Journal of Atlanta. Their issue 26th, ult., contained three full page advertisements and about a dozen more home advertisements of different sizes. This shows that the town is very much alive—with plenty of live business men.

Some of the property owners when they pass the Moseley new building must shut their eyes, for it is a beauty to behold.

Another saw mill secured and a favorable report on the water question is enough glory for one week.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Purgative substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

WILL THEY BE ANSWERED?

The Jimplecute does not intend to take any part in the battle now raging between the Madam Editors and State Press. As State Press has displayed such great generosity in getting the Madam Editors divided on the great question of how a lady should ride a horse, he evidently does not need any outside assistance. Let the Jimplecute would like to see the momentous question settled. When this great question affecting woman is finally disposed of there is another of more importance which should be taken up by these able debaters and disposed of, and that is the dropping of "Miss" and "Mr." by the young people of the present generation. It is now Martha, Mary, Jane and so on; John, Jack, Pete. This familiarity has become common since the late war. Prior to the sixties in the South every young lady was addressed as "Miss" and the young men as "Mister." If the Madam Editors and State Press can start a crusade which will stop this unpardonable familiarity they will have done their country a great service. This familiarity smacks too much of the servant girl and is entirely out of place in good society as taught in the South in the good old days before the war, when such familiarity would have been regarded as an insult.—Jefferson Jimplecute.

The fact is that such familiarity smacks more of "bad raising" than of the servant girl. And the whole fault lies with the girl. If she avoids that familiarity with the boys which goes with calling them "Johnny," "Billy," "Eddy," "Jimmy" and the like, they are not apt to call her "Mag," "Susie," "Jen" and "Sally." Women possess the power to prevent familiarity on the man's side, even though the man attempts it is rude, crude and idiotic. It is no uncommon thing in these degenerate times for a young lady and young gentleman to call each other "Honey," "Will," "Sally," and such names. State Press is not going to start out on a reformatory way to correct this habit among our young folks. There are other more important things for him to do. When he induces the women of the land to make biscuits which would be too light for sinkers on a fish seine he will then turn attention to their daughters and sons who offend the Jimplecute man by their familiarity toward each other. Until their mothers know how to make bread we can not hope for much from the rising generation.—Dallas News.

State Press is sure nerry to charge that the ladies don't know how to make bread. There are ladies in this section of the State who make biscuits so light that they have to put them in covered dishes to keep them from floating away on the gentle zephyrs. The corn bread they make is equal to angel food, only not so sweet. State Press should withdraw his insinuation that the ladies makes such heavy biscuits. The Jimplecute knows of a gentleman who undertook to make some biscuits during his wife's absence. These biscuits were sinkers sure. Two would have drowned any dog in the State by letting the dog eat them and letting the aforesaid dog undertake to swim. State Press says the girls and boys call each other "Honey." When they get that far along the County Clerk and a minister should be called in to requisition with as little delay as possible. Mister and Miss sounds more dignified, and should never have been dropped. Good society should demand its restitution.

Hon. J. H. Kirby says he would rather see Texas go Republican than for W. J. Bryan. Kirby is a great Bailey man. Col. W. L. Crawford is against Bryan also, and he is against Bailey. Both are Democrats. Is there to be a Bailey and anti-Bailey Democratic party. If so Kirby "rather" will be realized.

Jefferson needs some late style business buildings. So get busy and keep the contractors busy.

It is coming our way at last. Those who are slow of movements had better get out of the way.

GRAYSON COUNTY GOES DRY. Sherman, Tex., Oct. 3.—With eight small boxes out of fifty three to hear from to day's election shows that Grayson County has gone dry by a prohibition majority of not less than 700.

VICTORY AT LAST

After years of fighting, writing, giving statistics, information, and doing everything a people could do, victory has at last come to us—the Jimplecute means to all of North-east Texas. Mayor Sheppard received the following telegram Wednesday morning last from Senator Culberson:

"I am gratified to be able to tell you that the board of engineers for river and harbors has reported favorably on the project of constructing a dam at foot of lake, and have asked Capt. Wooten to report an estimate of the cost."

This news sent a thrill of joy through every one, the long hoped for, the long prayed for, had come at last: the many adverse reports had been changed, and the great gratification given our people cannot be expressed. The Hon. Mayor sent the following appropriate reply to Senator Culberson:

"All of our people join me in thanks and congratulations to you and Congressman Sheppard, for your untiring efforts in behalf of restoring navigation to Jefferson and Northeast Texas."

Northeast Texas should as one man throw up its hat and give three hearty cheers for our Senator and Congressman. It means more than any thing which could have happened within the State—this means cheap freights. It means the more rapid development of all our natural resources. It means the coming of others, to get the advantage of the beneficial results of navigation. It means confidence of the citizens restored, and creating enthusiasm and certainty where there used to be doubts and hesitations. Yes, it means absolute confidence in the future of Northeast Texas. It is gratifying to those who have kept up with the efforts to restore navigation to have their faith verified, and their confidence not misplaced.

"Truth crushed to earth, will rise again" is as true as any thing can be. The Jimplecute extends hearty congratulations to all of Northeast Texas, and predicts a greater increase in wealth in this section than in any other section of the Southwest. The scientific world is aware of the presence of vast quantities of gas in this district; the iron interest know of the vast quantities of the best ore any where to be found; the truck farmer knows that nowhere can there be found better land for growing all kinds of truck than in this section. With all this to be developed, what can and will do it quicker than cheap freights, and cheap freights are had at water points. In no section of the country is the future brighter for the investment of capital than there is in this territory now. The world has been long watching the restoration of navigation in Cypress River. Now that it is a fact, the coming of capitalist may be looked for and this entire section begin to fill up rapidly, and increase in wealth, and prosperity only dreamed of by a very few.

If you did not read Col. Crawford's speech on Baileyism you missed a treat. The Colonel is a hard hitter when he starts. State Senator Senter is to some Democratic work by exposing the tricks of the Bailey investigation. Of course there are friends of Senator Bailey who don't read such "rot." No one blames them. How can a man pass an honest and true verdict unless he hears both sides of any case. If this was not so and only one side was heard all verdicts would be one sided. The more honest way is to keep up with both sides. The Jimplecute does not mean to read the same speech over any time, but read every thing new.

"For over thirty years," writes a gentleman in Los Angeles, "I have used Arbuckle's Coffee. Many times my family has tried other coffee only to come back to our old reliable, unchangeable Arbuckle's. No other coffee has this uniform never failing aroma, I care not at what price. I have often wished I could tell you this." Many other people have the same opinion. Arbuckle's was the first roasted coffee, and its sales exceed all the others put together. That it costs you less is due simply to our coffee business being so much greater than our competitors, in fact, it is larger than the next four largest firms in the world combined. We naturally can and actually do give better coffee in ARBUCKLE than anyone else can give for the price. Being the standard article it is sold at the narrowest margin of profit.

Some grocers wish to tell you you instead lose, which the roaster is anxious to sell in a package bearing his name.

Don't take it, neither the looks nor the price indicate its cup quality. No matter where you buy Arbuckle's ARIOSA, or what you pay for it, it's the same old uniform Arbuckle's ARIOSA coffee.

A. Deussen, professor of engineering in the State University, recently made a trip over the country in a wagon from Marshall to Beaumont. The trip was for the purpose of securing data with reference to the water supply of East Texas, and Professor Deussen secured samples from all the wells, springs and other sources of water supplies which he found. His estimate is that this section of Texas is supplied with an excellent quality of water and plenty of it. He found some wells which he believes have a water with medicinal qualities equal to those at Mineral Wells and Marlar. A report of his investigations will be embodied by the U. S. Geological Department.—Texas Farmer.

The Professor made a great mistake in not starting further North. He should have the waters of Dallas by Springs in Bowie county. Hughes Springs and Mineral Springs in Cass, and the artesian water at Jefferson, then he would have had an average, perhaps, of the waters of Northeast Texas as well as East Texas.

BATTERIES WANTED!
Mrs. H. A. Benefield.

I have not bothered the readers of the JIMP in quite a while. Many have asked, "Why don't you write?" The answer has been, I have about writ out, or an oft repeated song becomes tiresome. To tell the truth, hope is a great yen stirrer, and hope that our W.C.T.U. would ever do much good for our old town had well nigh left me.

Then you are hopeful now? Ask one. Yes, a tiny gleam has burst into flame that may in time become a bon fire. Many of our best men, have given us their names, and promised help in the coming election; so we are hoping.

But more to be depended upon than the mightiest world of men, are the promises of God. Recently I heard a prayer from a dear old mother, who still has Faith in God and His promises, though she has walked for years, she told me, through that heart rending, soul blistering Gethsemane that old "Jim Barley Corn" makes for woman. I give you the prayer in cold penned words, would that you could have heard it warm from the bursting heart:

"Gracious Father. We come again asking Thee. We come with the faith of the Synagogue and woman asking help, O Lord, to cast out the Demon that is destroying our homes. Thou hast promised to help in time of need, O dear God, we do need Thy help now; for man has become so weak that oft times he fails us. Thou knowest how woman has ever stood by his side, ready and willing to help; in the up-building of our own great land, she stood always by his side, through rain and sunshine, through cold and hot, through prosperity and adversity she was at her post to cheer and counsel, pointing upward and onward. And now dear Father, when the very name America is spoken in wondering homage throughout the world; man turns from his humble helper leaving her to fight the drink evil alone. This great Demon, O God that woman sees with intuitive eye, will in a few short years destroy every stronghold of purity, of goodness—true greatness. Help, O Lord, for we are weak. Thou knowest the hearts of men; stretch forth Thy strong and mighty hand, put man on the uphill road of purity, side by side with pure woman; that the great Demon may be cast out by Thy help and the land made pure. Dear Father, bless our country, may true and royal men walk through her legislative halls; protecting and upholding the cause of woman. Bless the pure and good in all this work. Have pity upon the workers of evil, in mercy teach them better ways. All we ask is the name of our high captain of purity our precious Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen."

Many such prayers have gone up to our Father above, and He is mighty and strong to perform wonders. The good women of Jefferson, both white and colored, have responded nobly to the call of the W. C. T. U. It is believed that not one is on the other side. A regiment of good women will line up on our streets the 12th, of October; there is to be a division met! No! Forever, No! There is to be a division—between bad men and good men, but the good men will be on our side.

Frances Willard said once, "Alone we can do little. Separated we are units of weakness, but aggregated we become batteries of power." This is what we want Batteries of Power, bloodless, smokeless batteries; batteries of strong, good men determined to hold together and cast their ballots for the right. Men, do you know I think the battle of the ballot box is the grandest battle yet. In battle we are shot and shell are booming, martial music calling, brave men cheering for the charge—cords forget their fear and rush boldly into, but, it takes the grandly brave man to walk up to the ballot box on a quiet day and cast his vote for the right, when he knows that right is in the minority for the time being. I do believe we have such men.

Come out, men! Line up! White men, colored men! If you are good men, stand on the woman's side. Steadily and all together for we want our batteries ready to strike for the White Ribbon cause.

One word more. About what you will see on your visit to the full-value-giving-house of the city. Each department full of overflowing. THE SECRET OUT.

A Wide Open Statement.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas and other untruthful statements published concerning Doctor Pierce's World-famous Medical Discovery, the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Favorite Prescription" for weak women. He has also decided to publish the ingredients of the "Golden Medical Discovery," being a non-alcoholic extract of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Black-cherry bark, Mandarilla root, Blood-root and Stone root, preserved by chemically pure glycerine.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, being made of native medicinal roots, is next to Nature and is the best tonic you can use. It fills the blood with rich, red blood corpuscles. It gives you a feeling of strength, and it puts sunshine into your system as no other remedy can. That is why Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been used as a favorite for the past forty years. No man or woman can be either healthy or handsome who has impurities in the blood, for it will show in pimples, boils, eruptions, in the dark circles under the eyes and in the sallow complexion. After taking "Golden Medical Discovery" you are bound to have pink cheeks and a fresh complexion. The muscles get the good, rich, red blood, that puts on strength. It is a flesh builder, but not a fat builder.

As an example of the good results thus obtained, note the following letter:

"In the year 1880, I had an attack of indigestion and got so bad that my home doctor said I could not do any more. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, so I bought a bottle of it. I commenced using it as soon as I could hardly walk about the house. By the time I had used one bottle my stomach and bowels came back to normal. I feel much better now than I did when I first started using it."
